

January Newsletter 2017 - 4th Grade

Ms. Creighton

Ms. Cherco-Rivera

“Tomorrow is the first blank page of a 365 page book. Write a good one.” ~ Brad Paisley

Reading & Language Arts

In class, we are focusing on reading nonfiction and making sense of new factual information about topics with which we may be unfamiliar. We are also writing nonfiction essays and learning how to organize these essays effectively. Students are also busy preparing for the NWEA testing session next week. Parents, please be sure your students get plenty of sleep next week and come to school ready to do their best. Happy New Year everyone!

COLD WEATHER REMINDERS

With the weather getting colder, please be certain to send your children to school dressed appropriately.

Coats, scarves, hats, gloves, and long socks are very important. Please label your child's clothing.

For weather-related school closings, you can log on to www.emergencyclosing.com and search for Chicago Public Schools.

MATH

Students will use their knowledge of multiplication and division to work with factors and factor trees. They will also use this knowledge to help them distinguish between prime and composite numbers.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The students will be learning about the history of Illinois, as well as discuss the current events affecting our country.

TEACHER CONTACT INFORMATION - 773-534-4491

Ms. Creighton smcreighton@cps.edu

Ms. Cherco-Rivera kzcherco@cps.edu

Luis - 3rd

Ms. Cherco-Rivera - 5th

Janaya - 19th

Jaylah - 21st

2

0

1

7

UPCOMING EVENTS

- Progress Reports - January 9th
- M.L.K., Jr's Birthday (Obs) - Jan. 16th